Get Help with Data Entry!

One of the most challenging parts of putting a new system in place, is getting all of your data in. Hiring someone can save you time and money, by getting you up and running faster.

The following contacts are people who own or work in beer distributors, using BeerModo. These are contractors (not employees of Pomodo), who you can contact and hire to help with entering your data to get up and running quickly. Please feel free to reach out to them to discuss the details of hire, available dates, and current rates.
